8. Learning Outcomes / Elements of Competency for Accredited Vocational Courses

If you are enrolled in an accredited vocational course your tutor will provide you with a copy of the Learning Outcome/Elements of Competency in the first class which you will be asked to read. Your tutor will also explain the learning outcomes/elements of competency of your course to you in “plain english”.

In general and leisure courses, the tutor will explain the outcomes of the course in the first class.

9. Assessment

For accredited vocational courses the assessment requirements and timing will be outlined clearly in the first class so you will have an indication of what you are required to achieve and when. Late assessment tasks will not be accepted unless prior arrangements have been made with the tutor.

Assessment Appeals Process

Where a student disputes the result of an assessment, the following procedure is implemented:

- ✧ the VET Coordinator/General Manager will view the assessment tool to ascertain fairness, validity and reliability.
- ✧ the VET Coordinator/General Manager will consult with the tutor and student, individually.
- ✧ the student will be advised of the outcome of this consultation process within 2 working days of the dispute being lodged
- ✧ if it is decided that there is a case for review, a suitably qualified, independent assessor will be employed to conduct another assessment. An assessment date will be negotiated with the student. Following the assessment, the student will be advised of the result within 2 working days.
- ✧ If the student is not satisfied with any decisions made in this review process, he/she will be given a copy of the College's Response to Suggestions, Complaints and Allegations policy and procedure.

There is no assessment for the general and leisure courses. Tutors will provide on-going feedback and guidance throughout the course.

10. Recognition of Prior Learning and Mutual Recognition

Port Macquarie Community College recognises that adults bring to their learning a wide variety of experiences and this is taken into account when designing a program of learning for individual students.

All students of accredited vocational courses are able to apply for recognition of their experience and previous education and training. Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) may enable you to demonstrate that you have a number of the units of competency or learning outcomes and as a result you would not be required to do the whole course to gain the qualification. Information about this process is available from your tutor or the Administration Office. A fee will be charged for processing an RPL request.

PMCC as an RTO recognises all nationally accredited qualifications gained from any other RTO. Applying for Mutual Recognition may reduce the units of competency or learning outcomes you are required to complete to gain the qualification. Information about the Mutual Recognition process is available from your tutor or the Administration Office.

11. Employability Skills

Employability skills are also referred to as generic skills, capabilities or key competencies. Employability skills are incorporated within Training Packages qualifications and units of competency.

Employability Skills Summaries for Training Package qualifications can be downloaded from <http://employabilityskills.training.com.au>

12. Student Support

Port Macquarie Community College is able to provide a range of support services and refer students to other community support services.

If you think you will have difficulty with achieving the outcomes of the course, discuss this with your tutor or the General Manager. It is best if this can be done prior to commencing the class or as early as possible once the class commences so your needs can be assessed and accommodated if possible.

PMCC offers specialised support in the areas of language, literacy and numeracy. Both individual support and courses are available.

If your tutor is aware of your special learning needs then he/she is able to make reasonable adjustment to the delivery of the course. For example handouts can be provided in larger font, the seating in the room can be re-arranged to assist with hearing and vision needs, classrooms can be allocated to assist with access.

13. Tips on Taking Notes in Class

Developing effective note-taking practices can assist with your learning and preparation for assessment tasks.

Here are few ideas on methods:

- (a) colour different points/ideas/sections;
- (b) illustrate using graphics or flow charts;
- (c) use a mind map to link ideas and provide a visual that is easy to remember
- (d) contrast styles of writing;
- (e) arrange information into short chunks;
- (f) use headings to give clues to notes;
- (g) use highlighting pens;
- (h) use asterisks, arrows, draw a key to represent the main ideas;
- (i) use post it notes to summarise points

Remember note-taking is not recording verbatim what the tutor has said but the key points, concepts and linkages between these.

14. Collection of Certificates

If your course is one where a Certificate is granted then those Certificates will be ready for collection from the Administration office in Hastings River Drive 10 working days after the completion of the course. These certificates will not be posted and should be collected from the office as soon as possible. Certificates and Statements of Attainment are only issued after successful completion of the unit/s of competency.

15. Accessing Information on Policies and Procedures

You are able to access the College's policy and procedures information from the Administration office. The manuals are regularly up-dated as legislation and reporting requirements change so it is advisable to always seek the most up-to-date version of any policy or procedure.
